Cladach Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 220 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.5in. x 0.6in. The popular beach town of Eilat, at the southernmost tip of Israel, is visited daily by international tourists who want to visit the warm waters of the Red Sea. But when hundreds of tall, dark Africans show up to stay, curiosities are piqued. Where did they come from? Why are they in Eilat of all places? When a group of them enter The Shelter hostel run by John and Judy Pex, answers to these questions unfold. These are the very real stories of how and why five refugees escaped the genocide in South Sudan and Darfur, made their way through Egypt and smuggled into Israel, the only country their Islamic government prohibits them to go. They fled across the border with nothing but the clothes on their backs. No food. No money. No papers. No possessions. Just thankful to be alive. Advance Praise for A People Tall and Smooth: Although much has been written about the Lost Boys of Sudan who resettled in large groups in the United States beginning in 2000, very little, if anything, has been written about the countless Sudanese who fled alone to neighboring countries. Judy Pex breaks the silence, unfolding the perilous journeys of Sudanese refugees. For many it was a choice that came at tremendous cost: imprisonment, separation from their children and spouses, hunger, brutal beatings and death. Its a story of resilience, determination and the choice for freedom--at all cost. --Joan Hecht, award-winning author of The Journey of the Lost Boys Judy Pex writes with a deep understanding not only of Israel and her refugees but of human nature and Gods heart for all His children. Pex will move you with her words, her details, and the experiences of...
